"Stepping Stone"

Bunker Hill Day celebration on Friday, June 17, bids fair to be the most gala event of its kind in many years. Instead of a one-day celebration, the affair will extend over a period of one week.

Unusual features will be the visit here of a Canadian task force, and the presence at Logan International Airport, of the Navy's huge plane, the Constitution, which will be on exhibition on June 17, 18 and 19.

No one will begrudge Charlestown her greatest of all celebrations. The residents there will observe open house. There'll be banquets, the big parade on June 17, fireworks and all the trimmings of a gala and happy affair.

Let us join the people of the district in their enthusiasm for keeping alive in memory a day which is dear to all Americans and which, although resulting in technical defeat for the patriots, in reality proved a stepping stone to freedom.

Hospital Fund Drive Growing; Final Report Meeting Tonight

Almost 400 volunteer workers in the general public campaign for Symmes Arlington Hospital's $300,000 building fund are expected to be on hand tonight (Thursday) for the final report supper meeting at Robbing Memorial Town Hall when final progress in this intensive effort to complete the financing of the new wing will be announced.

A tremendous surge of subscriptions will now be required to complete the fund, since at the third report meeting on Monday evening at Ye Lantern Inn, it stood at $158,606.53, including 1,026 subscriptions amounting to $21,527.52 obtained in the public campaign to that point.

The latest report meeting was enthusiastic, though, and campaign leaders are confident that tonight's returns will surpass those of previous meetings during the two-week public campaign. On Monday they particularly emphasized that the close of the campaign would not mark the end of the endeavor to realize the goal of an expanded Symmes Arlington Hospital financed in part by public subscription.

At Monday's report meeting the Arlington teams organization under the chairmanship of James J. Golden announced a total of 870 subscriptions for $18,896.02. Of these, 310 amounting to $5,480 were new reports since the June 9 meeting.

three amounting to $820.50 of which were newly reported.

Mr. Golden urged all the volunteers to call upon as many prospects as they possibly could during the final three day of the campaign. He said that the splendid results turned in by a number of individual teams indicated what could be accomplished through concerted effort.

The women's teams organization in Arlington under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanley R. Kingman, continued to lead the men with a grand total of 746 subscriptions for $13,803.02. Men's divisions, under the leadership of Joseph H. Gaudet reported 121 for $5,093.

Leading all divisions over the course of the campaign was that of Mrs. Raymond S. Morrill, with a total of 116 subscriptions for $2,755.02. Top men's division was David Govenar's with 40 for $2,386.

St. James Wins-Loses And Ties

Last Thursday at Spy Field, St. James hung a 7-2 defeat on the Concord Town Team. Murphy was on the mound for St. James and gave up only six hits, two walks and fanned ten. St. James pounded out six hits in the eighth for two runs.

On Sunday St. James lost to Lexington, 6-5 at Lexington. Lexington scored six runs on five hits in the second, three hits being infield rollers which were hard to handle because of the wet field. St. James kept pecking away at the lead, but failed to score in the last inning, leaving men on first and third. Reardon pitched well for St. James, giving up a total of seven hits, one walk and striking out nine. Mental miscues also lost the game for St. James.

On Tuesday of last week, St. James tied the Belmont Braves at

Marycliff Academy To Open Kindergarten

In response to the many requests received from parents, Marycliff Academy in Arlington, announces the opening in September, of a kindergarten for small girls, to be under the personal direction of a sister especially trained for this work. A large well lighted classroom, with special equipment suitable for the kindergarten work of the youngsters, will add greatly to their enjoyment of the program planned in their behalf.

The high school department being transferred to Winchester has made it possible for Marycliff to provide for the new class, and for the acceptance of additional pupils to the primary and grammar grades as well. Pupils for the high school and preparatory courses are now being enrolled, and enrollment will continue during the remainder of the summer.

Republics of South America and has visited Mexico three times. Of Dr. Scottford's new book "The Church Beautiful" Elbert Conover says, "Dr. John Scottford has given many years of devoted study to the problems of American church building and equipment. This book grows out of his firsthand experience with every type of church building situation. Pastor, architects, craftsmen, church building committees and churchmen generally, will appreciate the wise and practical counsel that is so thoroughly based on complete knowledge of, and interest in the subjects treated."

Before going into editorial work under the Board of Home Missions, Dr. Scottford served pastorates in Oklahoma, Texas, Illinois and also Ohio. For several years he was Associate Editor of the Missionary Herald.

"The average congregation needs to know more than the minister can tell them. After he has told them about so much they stop listening to him. The job of a religious paper such as ADVANCE is to fill in the gaps in what the people are willing to accept from the minister."

ARLINGTON MAN BURNED—WIFE INJURED IN HOME

Richard W. Kelley, 23, of 57 Thorndike Street, suffered painful burns about arms and legs early on Thursday evening, when he attempted to extinguish a pan of flaming grease in the kitchen of his home.

His wife, Edna, 20, who was standing at the stove when the grease burst into flames, slipped and fell to the floor, and sustained a laceration on the back of her head. Both were rushed to Symmes Arlington hospital in a police ambulance. The husband, who was held at the hospital for treatment, spilled the pan of grease as he tried to put out the fire. Mrs. Kelley was released from the hospital. The small blaze was extinguished finally by the fire department, who confined the blaze to the kitchen.

Old Sayings that make sense on party lines

The proof of the pudding is in the eating
Party line service is at its best when everyone shares the line fairly... like the housewife who takes time out between calls on her shopping list. In this way, her party line neighbors get their share of service — and incoming calls can get through, too.

A stitch in time saves nine. It's a wise idea to train young folks to be good party line neighbors. Teaching them to hang up the telephone gently, to make sure the line is clear before trying to place a call — helps them realize the value of courtesy in sharing a service to everyone's advantage.

A NOTE to all party line users
Half a million telephones have been added during the past three years in the areas we serve. But even this unprecedented increase has not yet caught up with all telephone needs. For example, many of those who now are on party lines have requested individual service or lines with fewer parties on them.

However, before these requests can be fulfilled, our first obligation is to provide everybody who wants it with some kind of service. That accounts for the vast increase of party lines.

Party line service is generally acceptable to most people who use it, and their friendly co-operation in sharing it increases the benefits for everyone.

Nothing succeeds like success. It's amazing the way party line co-operation improves service. Little courtesies make a world of difference! When people answer promptly, don't interrupt except for emergencies, give up the line graciously when the need arises, everyone gets better service.
